PNAA celebrates its 40th year highlighting its rich legacy of advocacy through the years. This convention showcases inspiring leaders & speakers describe their advocacy initiatives in clinical practice, nursing administration, nursing research and how PNAA as an organization consistently championing its goals for its membership. Participants will gain strategies on how nurses can advocate for their patients, families, peers and for themselves. Furthermore, participants will gain insights in crusading for the marginalized and, disenfranchised groups and communities like the LGBTQI. At this conference, nurses will appreciate how significant their advocacy role at the bedside, in the board room and in policy making circles.
